The Half Day Cotswold Tour

Half Day Tour: South Cotswolds

This half day tour takes in three wonderful villages of the South Cotswolds. We start in the stunning village of Castle Combe – designated a conservation area of the Cotswolds. Next, it's a short trip to Lacock, a village that has so many original houses that it is often chosen as a period film set for many films and TV programs. Finally, we head to the historic town of Malmesbury. The gardens are stunning and has even an English King buried in the grounds. Please note the gardens are only open from March to October each year.

Cost £200 for up to 4 guests

For 5 to 8 guests add £ 75

Castle Combe

Castle Combe is one of the most beautiful villages of the South Cotswolds. Designated a conservation area, it feels like you are stepping back in time when you enter the village. Unspoilt by modern technology all the buildings are as you would have seen them 200 years ago. In recent years, it has been used as film sets for its originality and timeless beauty.

Look out for:

- Macs cake stall – Be honest!!
- The Manor House Hotel
- St Andrew Church

Lacock

The village, which dates from the 13th century and has many lime-washed half-timbered and stone houses, was used as a location in the TV and film productions of Pride and Prejudice, Moll Flanders and Emma. The Abbey also featured in the recent Harry Potter films

Look out for:

- The beautiful Lacock Abbey seen on the first page of these tour notes

Malmesbury

Situated on the summit of a perfect flat hill encircled by the River Avon at the southern entrance to the Cotswolds, sits Malmesbury, said to be the oldest continually inhabited town in England. Malmesbury is rightly called the "Queen of Hilltop Towns" being England's oldest borough with a rich history over 1000 years.

Look out for:

- The Old Bell – Oldest Inn in England
- Abbey House Gardens
- The Market Cross
